

Associate Network

The National Youth Agency is building an Associate Network of talented frontline practitioners, service managers and leaders to ensure we have the skills, knowledge and expertise to support practitioners and policy makers across the youth sector. Over a hundred experts have already signed up.

The Associate Network provides us with access to a pool of staff, meaning we can put together experienced teams in a range of delivery areas at short notice, delivering a uniquely tailored level of support and improvement and supplementing our in house expertise.

Being a National Youth Agency associate is a secondment opportunity for staff in local authorities. It provides an excellent opportunity to broaden experience in other sectors and settings.

Benefits

- You have access to people with the right skills and experience, when you need them.
- It delivers a uniquely tailored level of support and improvement.
- A secondment and development opportunity.
- Working with the Associate Network won't cost you anything.

"We want people who get great feedback from service users and colleagues and know their practice is cutting edge."
